

One idea, three roles, one after the other

Only one role sits on the chair at a time, the other two wait. Write in full sentences and change chairs only once the column is full.

YOUR IDEA    One sentence, nothing more

01 Dreamer

- What if everything works out?
- What does the best case look like?
- What would I do if money and time did not matter?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

02 Realist

- What is the first concrete step?
- What do I need for it, and who helps?
- By when is a first attempt possible?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

03 Critic

- Where does it break?
- Which assumption is the shakiest?
- What would an opponent say, and what do I do about it?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

THE DREAM, REVISED

Back to the first chair

What does the critic change about the dream? Write down what is left of it once all three have spoken.

---

---

---

---

On record: the sequence of the Disney method from a video of 2019, three roles, three seats, three rounds.

